ETA SIGMA IOTA

HOMELAND SECURITY PROFESSIONAL SOCIETY

Est. 2006

Eta Sigma Iota brings together students and faculty, with a unique interest in Homeland Security issues, for the development of exceptional leaders to prepare, respond, and recover from emergency situations.

Mission

Eta Sigma Iota is America's first and only Homeland Security Professional Society. Founded in 2006, from the Purdue Homeland Security Institute (PHSI) and the Purdue University Regional Visualization and Analytics Center (PURVAC), we are dedicated to bringing together students and faculty of Purdue University who are interested in issues related to the field of Homeland Security. Eta Sigma Iota fosters student and faculty involvement in homeland security, consequently developing exceptional leaders able to prepare for, respond to, and recover from emergency situations.

Training Exercise at Muscatatuck

Goals

- To sponsor seminars, workshops and speakers on current topics in homeland security.
- To provide training and certification opportunities to foster volunteers who can assist in emergency response.
- To spread awareness of roles and responsibilities relating to homeland security within the community.
- To support networking opportunities for students seeking career prospects within government and industry.

Events

Trip to Muscatatuck during Ardent/Hoosier Sentry

Observed a full scale, nation-wide, emergency response exercise at Muscatatuck Urban Training Center (a state-of-the-art urban training facility located in southern Indiana).

Threat & Risk Assessment Training

First Responder training to identify risks and vulnerabilities in infrastructure to weaponized Chemical, Biological and Nuclear threats.

Homeland Security & Law Enforcement Career Fair

A gathering of national agencies, corporations, and academic organizations to create awareness of the many job opportunities in Homeland Security related fields.

Mass Disaster Response Tabletop

A collaboration of Purdue students, under the guidance of local officials and emergency responders to assess situations and solve problems that may occur in a disaster.

Indiana Emergency Operations Center and Intelligence Fusion Center

Tour of the Indiana central command and control facility and the center that collects, analyzes, and disseminates information and intelligence data regarding criminal and terrorist activity in the state.

Beta Chapter

We welcome the Beta Chapter of Eta Sigma Iota at Vincennes University and look forward to working with them in the future!
